Dear Parents/ Guardians,

Greetings from Sekolah Rendah Rafflesia Kajang!

Please be informed that the Virtual CCA has been emphasized on students' psychomotor development, including STREAM art and craft activities which expose students to nature education and cultural activities.

The CCA teachers-in-charge have begun to focus on students' intellectual development, including literacy in action, reading, acting, and other fun activities. It is about how pupils organize their minds, ideas and thoughts to make sense of the world they live in.

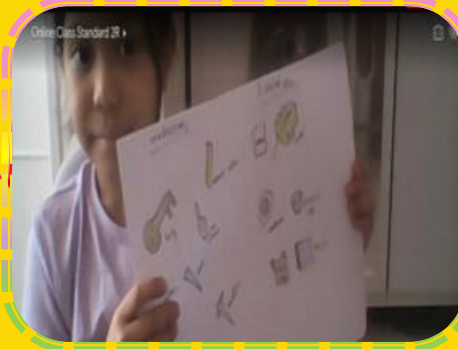

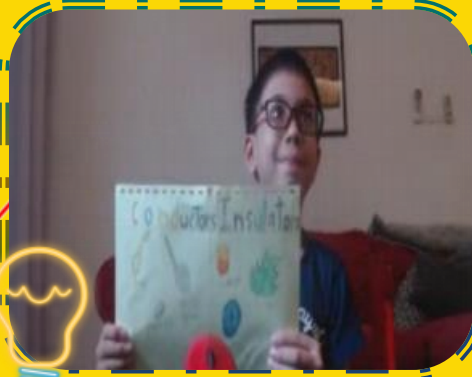

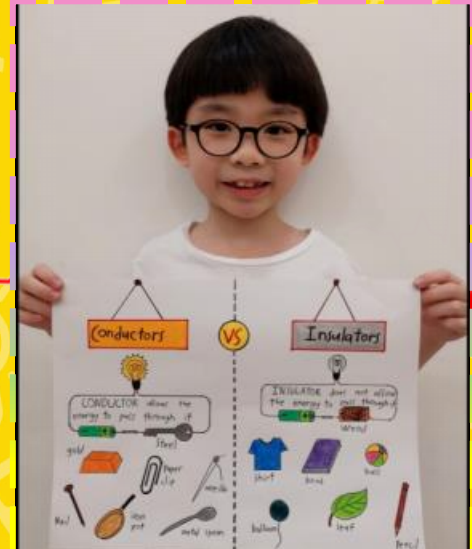

Beside that, the pupils of Sekolah Rendah Rafflesia Kajang have been exposed to activities to cultivate their gratitude towards everything surrounding them. Cultivating a heart of gratitude means having appreciation for life in the present moment.

The activities were conducted during Character Building lessons to teach students to avoid the social comparison of material possessions among children. These good values should be practised since young.

Your child's education and well-being is extremely important to us here. We will continue to focus on enhancing and strengthening meaningful learning activities for the pupils.

Wishing you and your family the very best. Thank you and stay safe always.

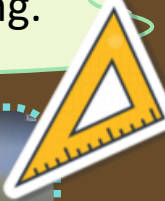

Yours faithfully,
Loy Liang Hui
Principal

Students learnt about the property of materials during the Science lesson. They were able to classify the objects into two groups, namely conductor and insulator.

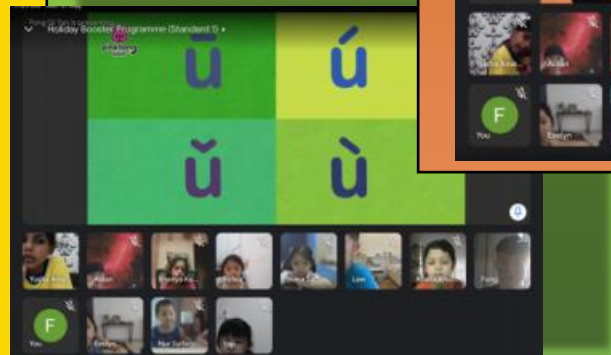

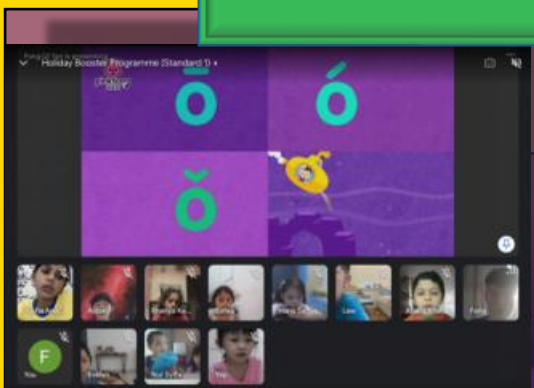

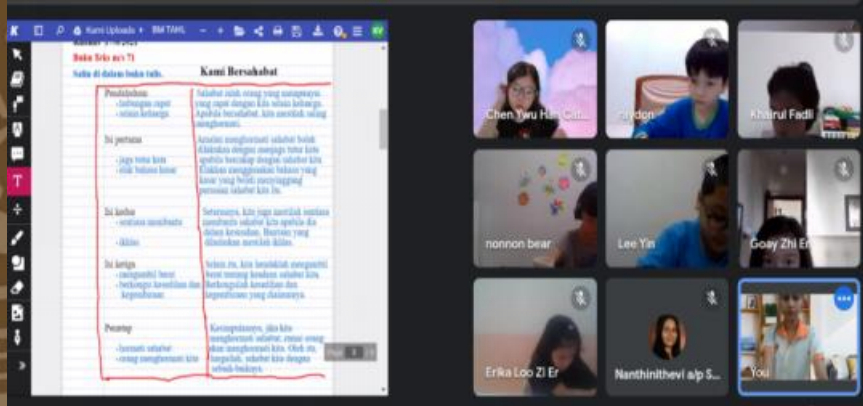

There were so much fun and creative ways to explore colour absorption with young kids. The kids dipped their strips into the containers, and watched them soak up coloured water. It was exciting to see their strips change colour each time they dipped. Young kids benefited greatly from hands-on learning.
